Product Description

Rowen Barbary Stud Mix is a highly palatable, nutrient dense mix designed to meet the extra requirements of foals, youngstock, broodmares and stallions that is ideal to use as a multipurpose stud ration on any stud farm.

Using highly digestible ingredients with the correct proportions of energy, protein, calcium, phosphorus and magnesium Rowen Barbary Stud Mix will help to deliver key nutritional support to all breeding and youngstock. High levels of oils are achieved from Soya and Linseed, supported by antioxidants, to help supply an excellent source of slow release energy to support condition and weight gain, with quality protein sources helping to ensure overall development.

Supplying a natural source of B Vitamins and Amino Acids, Brewers Yeast is also added along with a full compliment of essential vitamins, minerals and trace elements to help ensure overall health and vitality.
